SEYMOUR'S PROPOSITION TO THE CITY

with me whether it comes from north, south, east or west. The only objection I have heard to the location in North Ocala is that it is too far out. Will some one please tell me why it would cost more to pump water in North Ocala and distribute it through the city to South Ocala than it would to pump water in South Ocala and distribute it through the city to North Ocala.

Yours for peace and good water, B. H. Seymour.

OCALA'S WATER PROBLEM

the city limits of Ocala runs directly into that basin called Taylor's Pond.

I know it is cited that Jacksonville has her water plant located in a swamp, and I also know that the formation of the earth in and under that city is as different to that of Ocala as day is from night. There it is only a few feet down to the water level and drainage is on top of the ground. In Ocala our water level is from 40 to 80 feet and our drainage is through the earth rather than on top of it. Besides in Jacksonville it is only a few feet to the quick sand, which shuts off the surface water completely. Here we go down from 40 to 80 feet through lime rock that is full of holes and crevices, which readily admits the surface water. In fact, I can show anyone several places near here where the water pours down into the earth for 40 or 60 feet like pouring over a mill dam.

Full Particulars.

The prosecuting witness in the damage suit against the city was giving in his testimony.

"Now, then, Mr. Bleedem," said his lawyer, "you will please tell the jury where you were injured."

"On my knee, in my feelings and right in front of the city hall," rapidly answered the witness, fearing an objection on the part of the other attorneys.
